RULING FOR TENANTS IN FIGHT OVER HEAT

Rent Commission Holds Landlord Responsible for Breakdown of Apartment Service.

Landlords whose apartment house heating plants break down, will not be excused by the District Rent Commission for failing to furnish heat, according to an interpretation placed on decision handed down yesterday by the commission in a complaint filed by Adrian H. Aylor and other tenants of 1711-13 Lincoln road northeast against Mrs. Julia M. Higgins, owner. Mrs. Aylor was directed immediately

o furnish heat "in accordance with provisions of laws." and, in a supplement-ary clause, was ordered to install elec-tric, gas or oll heaters if it is necessary ary clause, was ordered to install electric, gas or oil heaters if it is necessary to repair or replace the original heating plant in the building.

The tenants filed with the commission on December 20 an affidavit alleging that Mrs. Higgins "wilfully" had withdrawn their heat supply and had neglected to remedy the condition. The commission the following day, called in Mrs. Higgins to show case why heat should not be afforded the tenants. At the hearing it was brought out that the present heating plant had been found unfit for service and that the owner declared it would be necessary for all the tenants to vacate in order to install a new plant. The complaining tenants refused to vacate, it was claimed, and demanded heat.

The commission pointed out that the owner "wilfully" had withdrawn service, thus imposing on the tenants burden, loss and inconvenience, contrary to law.

Armour Discusses Steps in Taking Over of Morris &

Company.

CHICAGO, December 30.-Plans for he acquisition of Morris & Co. by were considered as advanced after meeting attended by officials o both concerns. Those in the conference included J. Ogden Armour, president of Armour & Co.

Nelson and Edward Morris, officials of Morris & Co., and legal and financial experts representing both packing houses.

No statement was made by the conferees, but it was generally understood that arrangements for paying the reported $30,000,000 purchase price were discussed.

Mr. Armour made his first public statement yesterday since it was reported that Armour & Co. planned to absorb Morris & Co., but it contained no mention of that move. It was an explanation of the formation of Armour & Co. of Delaware.

May Use Personal Funds.

In carrying out the division of the old company into two corporations Mr. Armour is understood to have pledged a considerable portion of his private fortune. One transaction involved, it was understood, is a loan of $20,000,000 arranged with a group of Chicago banks.

In view of that, and other prospective rearrangements of the financing of Armour & Co., it was said to be the consensus of opinion among bankers here that Mr. Armour would continue to direct his enterprise for at least several years more.

U.S. After 10,000 Shy Income Tax In This District

BALTIMORE, Md., December 30 .-The Maryland office of the United States revenue bureau has been busy for some weeks upon alleged tax delinquents in this district, and about 10,000 bills for income taxes have been sent out. These are to persons who made no returns and persons who made no returns and likewise to numerous others whose returns show some discrepancy noted by the lynx-eyed inspectors, who for weeks have been making a special drive to fatten the government coffers.

Not all are regarded as tax dodgers who receive these bills, but many of them, it was stated, are clearly in this list, both in Maryland and in the District of Columbia.

Considerable money returns already have resulted from the drive, and the total is expected to reach between $200,000 and $300,000.
